

Once humans almost did take over and bad things happened to them on earth; what am I seeing now; autoimmune doomsday in a syringe brought to us by medical warfare science, which will accomplish this in sum. A global extinction of humans partial is planned, total will be. Humans are too clever by 1/2 and such useful idiots when properly trained as such. Destroying autoimmunity destroys heart and soul of a body organism to survive in this toxic soup of bio-pathogens and toxins. Surface populations or herds must be reduced to manageable levels to incorporate this plan, which eliminates about 95% of it as currently known. Between released curses such as petroleum, nuclear and now bio-diverse pathogens in addition to what already exists on global populations not immune or with compromised immunity to me spells extinction. Current bio warfare autoimmune agents either cause body to self-destruct or open it defenseless to invading diseases that kill it: regardless of means the end is disease, sickness and death. A global plague brought to us by medical warfare science Inc. Some would argue that I'm crazy; yes, sanely so. Did you not learn anything from the terrible 1900's; the WW2 Nazi death camps and genocidal tortures and murders? Ho Che Min's Cambodian killing fields? Stalin purges and ethnic cleansings? Hirohito's Japanese unit 731? Mao's mass murders? America's genocidal nuclear experiment on Hiroshima and Nagasaki? Evidence of what humans are capable of doing to each other and what is at stake for this madhouse world?! Every step is toward global self-extinction of humanity in toto! Perchance, these lessons were absorbed all too well? How to mass murder an entire planet with manufactured consent by victims to do so? To me this message is very clear and social scientist, planners remain busily orchestrating it like a London Symphony's finest performance resetting the human taxon to 150 million BC. Oh, well, it's only dust blowing on a windy desert and wasteland. Perfect when one thinks about it; an environmentalist's dream to wipe the planet of all human life while leaving everything else intact and natural. The Nazis cooed and soothed their victims with promises of hope and comfort; they cooperatively, peacefully, hopefully boarded the cattle car transports journeying into certain death and torture of concentration camps, gas chambers and crematorium ovens: ashes to ashes, dust to dust. Willingly they went bags in hand. What do I see now? Bread, wine and circus, pied piper genocides on a mass scale unprecedented in human history. I'm a victim of medical science's ignorance and stupidity same as millions perhaps billions of other humans; the big lie justifying autoimmune disease torturing and killing me is that it's for my good and good of humanity....as a human lab rat...squeak, squeak, more cheese please. This stuff develops very slowly in a latency period of obscure and minor symptoms. The sufferer and medical people are clueless to what is cause treating outermost symptoms, such as diabetes, high blood pressure, skin diseases, etc., not cause, which eludes detection. Moreover, medical science covers it up with moral and social stigma and fabricated tales, theories and other non-sense lies, which become belief that further promotes damage until serious and fatal. This is not a matter of if, but of when an infectious vector spreads it to a person. Perhaps religion in all of its perverse evil served an unintended consequence in retarding science from self-destructing humanity sooner? Annihilation and extinction? Such is nature of a dangerous organism confined to a spinning ball of dust floating about in a vacuum tube universe of matter. The beauty of us weird people is in noticing this going on! Wondering what is wrong with most of unconscious humanity that does not notice at all; heading with suitcases in hand to a waiting cattle car ride into gas chamber entry gates of heaven marked, "Warning!! Hell straight ahead." I suppose the noble act is to be brave and bear this burden; smile if possible, but carry the load. Miracle of (death) is the only freedom and release out of hell for a slave...perchance we all know that at some very deep dark place of mind? This planet has already entered the next global mass extinction: the late not so great human race. What amazes me are the useful idiots who think they gain a special place with elite PTB for their services betraying their kind: the human race in Toto. Humans are the lowest animal, perhaps the lowest of lowest of all organisms, on this planet.
